Grant Opportunities & News You Can Use

Hello faculty,

We hope this semester has been more treats than tricks so far. This month we have a Featured Funder column sharing STEM-focused early career fellowship opportunities almost as sweet as the day-after Halloween candy sales in our future tomorrow. We continue our Sage Advice Series on AI in higher education with a column on the ethical considerations for the use of AI in research.  If you have any questions related to AI in Higher Education, we would love to hear from you by submitting ideas here! Please note that the History of American Philanthropy column is on hold until Liane's return.

We have news stories and brief thumbnails of opportunities coming due in December. And in the back, we have six months' worth of deadlines. (As always, check the website! Some of the later deadlines have not yet been released.) The next internal grant deadline for the 2023-2024 academic year is November 28, 2023 for Faculty Research Grants.

As always, we will have office hours on Zoom the first Friday of the month. Drop by Friday, November 3, any time from 10-11 to ask us questions, pitch a project, get advice on funding, or just say hi. You can find us here:

Inside this issue

Featured Funder: STEM-Focused Early Career Faculty Awards

Grant-seeking can often seem daunting to faculty just starting out, and many opportunities are more realistic for well-established academics. So this month's column is designed to provide you with information about a variety of STEM-focused early career faculty fellowships, including their eligibility requirements, application deadlines, and funding ranges. Early career faculty fellowships are a great way to support your research, teaching, conference travel, and professional development. Fellowships can also help you to network with other scholars and to build your reputation in your field. While opportunities like the NSF CAREER award is undoubtedly one of the most well-known early career faculty fellowships, this month's issue also highlights a variety of lesser-publicized but equally valuable opportunities:

⇒ National Science Foundation (NSF) Faculty Early Career Development (CAREER) Program [STEM broad]: The NSF CAREER program is one of the most prestigious (and competitive) awards in support of early-career faculty in the United States. It provides funding for five years to support research, education, and outreach activities that will build a foundation for a lifetime of leadership in these areas. Funding: a minimum of $400,000 for the 5-year duration; Anticipated Deadline: July 24, 2024

⇒ National Institutes of Health (NIH) New Innovator Award [Biomedical sciences]: The NIH New Innovator Award supports early-stage investigators who propose highly innovative, high-risk, high-impact research projects that could have a major impact on biomedical science. Funding: $1.5 million in direct costs split into two multi-year segments. Anticipated Deadline: August 2024

⇒ Sloan Research Fellowships [chemistry, physics, and mathematics]: The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation's Research Fellowships support early-career scientists and engineers who are pursuing fundamental research in chemistry, physics, and mathematics. Funding: $75,000 for two years. Anticipated Deadline: September 15, 2024

⇒ National Science Foundation (NSF) Collaborative Research in Computational and Information Science (CRII) Program [computational and information science]: The NSF CRII Program supports collaborative research projects in computational and information science that involve multiple institutions and researchers. Funding: $175,000 for a period of 24 months. Anticipated Deadline: September 24, 2024

⇒ Neuroscience Investigator Awards [neuroscience]: The New York Stem Cell Foundation (NYSCF) Neuroscience Investigator Awards support early-career neuroscientists who are pursuing innovative research. Funding: up to $1.5 million in flexible funding over 5 years. Anticipated Deadline: February 16, 2024

⇒ Fellowship Awards in the Neurosciences [neurosciences]: The Klingenstein-Simons Fellowship Awards in the Neurosciences program provides funding to support postdoctoral research in the neurosciences. Funding: $300,000 over three years. Anticipated Deadline: February 15, 2024

⇒ Google's Research Scholar Program [computer science]: The Research Scholar Program aims to support early-career professors who are pursuing research in fields relevant to Google, including social science research that looks at technology's implications and impacts on individuals and society. Funding: up to $60,000. Anticipated Deadline: Application opens November 3, 2023 and deadline is December 1, 2023

While we hope this list helps, we've also put together a more thorough list of STEM-focused fellowship opportunities to support the creation of this article. If you are interested in more opportunities, feel free to email us and we can share the list with you!

Sage Advice: Ethical Considerations for the Use of AI in Research

We're back for another issue of our "Sage Advice Series: AI in Higher Education." AI is being used to develop new research methods, transcribe interviews, analyze large datasets, communicate research findings during the writing stage, and even offer feedback during the peer-review process. However, the use of AI in research also raises a number of ethical and regulatory challenges. Luckily, several Institutional Review Boards (IRBs)  across the US have developed a number of policies to guide the responsible and ethical use of AI in research to protect the rights and interests of human subjects in research. We've highlighted a few priorities for researchers to consider that have emerged from recent IRB policies:

⇒ Transparency: Researchers must disclose the use of AI in their research protocols and informed consent forms, so that participants can understand how their data will be used and make informed decisions about whether to participate. IRBs are not alone in the push for transparency among researchers; some journals and academic presses require researchers to disclose the use of AI in their research. For more information on transparency in informed consent, check out the University of Tennessee-Knoxville's guidance on AI in Research.

⇒ Fairness: Researchers must take steps to minimize the risk of bias in their AI systems, by using diverse datasets and auditing their systems for bias. This is particularly important for the data analysis phase. Check out the Harvard Business Review's thoughts on the role of IRB and mitigating bias in AI research.

⇒ Privacy: Researchers must protect the privacy of the data they are inputting into AI systems (as a consumer of the system) or using to develop AI systems (as an AI researcher and developer). This often means using anonymized data whenever possible, encrypting data, and limiting access to data. Again, IRBs are not alone in this priority; The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has also ruled the use of AI in peer-review processes as a breach of confidentiality. For more information on privacy considerations, check out the Department of Health and Human Services Secretary's Advisory Committee on Human Research Protections considerations for IRB Review.

⇒ Security: Researchers must take steps to secure their AI systems from unauthorized access and use, by using strong passwords, firewalls, and intrusion detection systems. It is important to research any recent security breaches the AI system you intend to use has experienced and what each company has done to mitigate future security failures. For more information on considerations for security when using AI in Research, check out the University of California's most recent report.

While AI has the potential to revolutionize the way that research is conducted, many IRBs recognize the importance of using AI in a responsible and ethical way. It is crucial for faculty to be aware of the IRB policies and trends at their institutions and partner institutions that are relevant to their research as both AI capabilities and IRB standards evolve. ## Grant Opportunities

GENERAL INTERESTS AND CROSS-DISCIPLINARY

American Philosophical Society
Franklin Research Grants
Deadline: December 1
"The Franklin program is particularly designed to help meet the costs of travel to libraries and archives for research purposes; the purchase of microfilm, photocopies, or equivalent research materials; the costs associated with fieldwork; or laboratory research expenses." <<link>>

The New York Public Library
Schomburg Center Scholars-in-Residence Program
Deadline: December 1
"The Scholars-in-Residence Program offers both long-term and short-term fellowships designed to support and encourage top-quality research and writing on the history, politics, literature, and culture of the peoples of Africa and the African diaspora, as well as to promote and facilitate interdisciplinary exchange among scholars and writers in residence at the Schomburg Center." <<link>>

Columbia University School of Journalism
Anthony Lukas Prize Project Awards
Deadline: December 8
"Established in 1998, the J. Anthony Lukas Prize Project Awards recognize excellence in nonfiction that exemplifies the literary grace and commitment to serious research and social concern that characterized the work of the awards' Pulitzer Prize-winning namesake, J. Anthony Lukas, who died in 1997. Four awards are given: two J. Anthony Lukas Work-In-Progress Awards, the J. Anthony Lukas Book Prize and the Mark Lynton History Prize." <<link>>

Council of American Overseas Research Center
NEH Senior Research Fellowship
Deadline: December 8

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities

"The Multi-Country Research Fellowship enables US scholars to carry out trans-regional and comparative research in countries across the network of Overseas Research Centers as well as other countries. The fellowship supports advanced research in the humanities, social sciences, and allied natural sciences for US doctoral candidates, who are 'all but dissertation' and scholars who have earned their PhD or a terminal degree. Applicants are eligible to apply as individuals or as teams. Scholars must carry out research in two or more countries outside the US, at least one of which must host a participating Overseas Research Center. Twelve awards of $12,600 each will be granted. Funding is provided by the US Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs." <<link>>

ARTS AND HUMANITIES

American Philosophical Society
Franklin Research Grants
Deadline: December 1
"The Franklin program is particularly designed to help meet the costs of travel to libraries and archives for research purposes; the purchase of microfilm, photocopies, or equivalent research materials; the costs associated with fieldwork; or laboratory research expenses."
<<link>>

Center for Research in Black Culture at the New York Public Library
Scholars-in-Residence
Deadline: December 1
"The Schomburg Center Scholars-in-Residence Program offers long-term and short-term fellowships to support scholars and writers working on projects that would benefit from access to the Center's extensive resources for the study of African diasporic history, politics, literature, and culture." <<link>>

Institute for Citizens and Scholars
Mellon Emerging Faculty Leaders Award
Deadline: December 1
"The Mellon Emerging Faculty Leaders (MEFL) are building inclusive campus communities through their teaching, scholarship, and service. Awardees are early-career faculty whose research focuses on contemporary American history, politics, culture, and society. In addition to bringing a diversity of perspectives to their fields, MEFL awardees are building support systems, networks, and affinity groups for their students and peers." <<link>>

Society for Classical Studies
Thesaurus Linguae Latinae Fellowship
Deadline: December 1
"The Society for Classical Studies invites applications for a one-year Fellowship, tenable from July 2024 through June 2025, that will allow an American scholar to conduct lexicographical research at the Thesaurus Linguae Latinae (TLL) Institute in Munich. Fellows at the TLL develop a broadened perspective of the range and complexity of the Latin language and culture from the classical period through the early Middle Ages, contribute signed articles to the Thesaurus, have the opportunity to participate in a collaborative international research project in a collegial environment, and work with senior scholars in the field of Latin lexicography." <<link>>

Theatre Grants

Deadline: December 1

"Not-for-profit, professional theatres in the United States are the primary recipients of Shubert Foundation general operating support grants." <<link>>

Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum Fellowships

Deadline: December 1

"We offer a variety of fellowships for pre-doctoral, postdoctoral, and non-academic researchers. Applicants are encouraged to contact prospective staff advisors prior to submitting a proposal. Ranking factors that influence selection include the scholarly merits of the proposal, as well as the research and academic record of the applicant. Applicants should state explicitly what potential use they intend to make of the Museum's collections and facilities. It is also advisable to state how you hope to profit from the availability of Smithsonian research staff and resources in the Washington, DC area." <<link>>

Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies
Fellowships

Deadline: December 1

"For two academic years, 2022-23 and 2023-24, the Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies will focus on the topic of Environment and Climate. Our next topic, for 2024–2025 and 2025–2026, is on Truth and Information. Fellowships are awarded to scholars who hold full time academic positions, and who are expected to return to those positions at the conclusion of their Fellowship. Verification of employment and salary will be requested prior to approval by the Dean of the Faculty. Ph.D. required." <<link>>

Terra Foundation
Convenings Grants

Deadline: December 8

"Recognizing current and historical inequities in the presentations and understandings of American art history, the Terra Foundation encourages convenings that address these disparities and exclusions at institutions worldwide." <<link>>

Kress Foundation
History of Art Grants Program

Deadline: December 15

"The History of Art Grants program supports scholarly projects that will enhance the appreciation and understanding of European works of art and architecture from antiquity to the early 19th century. Grants are awarded to projects that create and disseminate specialized knowledge, including archival projects, development and dissemination of scholarly databases, documentation projects, museum exhibitions and publications, photographic campaigns, scholarly catalogues and publications, and technical and scientific studies." <<link>>

Kress Foundation
Conservation Grant Program

Deadline: December 15

"The Conservation Grants program supports the professional practice of art conservation, especially as it relates to European works of art from antiquity to the early 19th century. Grants are awarded to projects that create and disseminate specialized knowledge, including archival projects, development and dissemination of scholarly databases, documentation projects, exhibitions and publications focusing on art conservation, scholarly publications, and technical and scientific studies. Grants are also awarded for activities that permit conservators and conservation scientists to share their expertise with both professional colleagues and a broad audience through international exchanges, professional meetings, conferences, symposia, consultations, the presentation of research, exhibitions that include a prominent focus on materials and techniques, and other professional events." <<link>>

Thoma Foundation
Marilynn Thoma Fellowship in Spanish Colonial Art
Deadline: December 15
"The Carl & Marilynn Thoma Foundation offers predoctoral and postdoctoral fellowships annually in support of projects and research initiatives that will advance study of the art of the Spanish Americas. The Marilynn Thoma Fellowship is the only unrestricted research funding in the United States devoted exclusively to the field of art of the Spanish Americas. Scholars may come from any discipline, but all projects must relate to the study of art and art history. Exceptionally accomplished scholars holding an MA may also apply. International scholars, particularly from Latin America, are strongly encouraged to apply." <<link>>

Howard Gilman Foundation
Grant
Deadline: December 15
"The Howard Gilman Foundation seeks to build meaningful, long-term partnerships with a diverse array of performing arts organizations in New York City. We invest in grantee organizations' overall fiscal health and wellbeing by providing annual general operating support and targeted project support grants, and we add a small number of new organizations to our roster each year." <<link>>

Center for Italian Modern Art
Fellowship Program
Deadline: December 18
"The Center for Italian Modern Art awards a number of Fellowships each year to support the study of Italian modern and contemporary art by scholars at the master's, doctoral, and post-doctoral level. Citizens of all nationalities are eligible to apply. The intention of the program is to bring together emerging scholars from diverse academic backgrounds in an interactive and collaborative environment at CIMA's New York location. While fellows may pursue their own research and study, they will also work on a "study topic" related to CIMA's installations, lead guided visits of the exhibition, and participate in CIMA's programming and other activities." <<link>>

MLA
Humanities Innovation Grant
Deadline: December 30
"The Modern Language Association awards $3,000 grants every year to support the development of courses and other educational programs in English, languages, and related disciplines that build enrollments and revitalize student interest in the humanities. The grants seek to recognize interdisciplinary and collaborative projects that engage with questions of global, regional, or local significance; that have the potential to offer transformative experiences for learners; that foster lasting connections between individuals and their communities; and that draw on innovative and effective pedagogical practices. Grant recipients will be honored at the awards ceremony during the MLA convention and will be invited to present their project in the convention's Language and Literature Program Innovation Room."

<<link>>

Brady Education Foundation
Grants
Deadline: December 1
"The Foundation is currently accepting Research Project (RP) proposals and Existing Program Evaluation (EPE) proposals that have the potential to provide data that will inform how to address disparities in educational opportunities associated with race, ethnicity, and family income." <<link>>

Spencer Foundation
Small Research Grants
Deadline: December 6
"The Small Research Grants Program supports education research projects that will contribute to the improvement of education, broadly conceived, with budgets up to $50,000 for projects ranging from one to five years. We accept applications three times per year."<<link>>

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Princeton University Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)
Fellowships

Deadline: December 1
"Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) hosts post-doctoral or more senior research associates each academic year, whose work focuses on empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. CSDP fellows pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. Our hope is that CSDP fellows will collaborate with our faculty or students on projects of mutual interest in addition to developing their independent research agendas on related topics." <<link>>

The Classical Association of the Middle West and South
Faculty-Undergraduate Collaborative Research Projects
Deadline: December 6
"These awards are intended to support faculty research collaborations in Classics (any sub-discipline) with undergraduate students. Faculty-student pairs may be from institutions with graduate programs, but the student involved must be in an undergraduate."
<<link>>

Columbia Journalism School
J. Anthony Lukas Work-in-Progress Award
Deadline: December 7
"Established in 1998, the J. Ploughshares Foundation
Projects that Promote a Nuclear-Free World
Deadline: December 14
"Ploughshares Fund supports organizations and individuals working to build a safe, secure, nuclear weapons-free world." <<link>>

Rutgers University
Beyster Postdoctoral Fellowship
Deadline: December 31
"The Beyster Professorship, Fellowship, and Related Fellows Programs are supported by a major gift from J. Robert Beyster, Mary Ann Beyster, the Foundation for Enterprise Development, and the Employee Ownership Foundation. Rutgers School of Management and Labor Relations established this leading fellowship and professorship program in employee ownership and shared capitalism." <<link>>

Rutgers University
 The Louis O. Kelso Fellowships
Deadline: December 31
"The Employee Ownership Foundation/Louis O. Kelso Fellowships are awarded to outstanding scholars studying the topic of broadened ownership of capital in a democratic society in the United States. Ph.D. candidates, postdoctoral scholars, or visiting professors in the areas of business/economics/labor studies/management, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, public policy, or sociology may apply." <<link>>

STEM

Google
Research Scholar Program
Deadline: December 1
"The Research Scholar Program provides unrestricted gifts to support research at institutions around the world, and is focused on funding world-class research conducted by early-career professors." <<link>>

Oak Spring Garden Foundation
Fellowships/Library Opportunities
Deadline: December 1
"Our residency programs are an important way that we meet our mission, and provide dedicated individuals access to our resources and accommodations. All of our residents are selected based on their ability to demonstrate a current interest in plants, landscapes, and gardens, or more broadly, the natural world and humankind's place in it. We welcome and encourage diverse applicants, and we are always excited to receive submissions that convey a unique relationship with, or perspective on, the natural world." <<link>>

Institute for Advanced Study
School of Mathematics Membership
Deadline: December 1
"The IAS School of Mathematics welcomes applications from mathematicians and theoretical computer scientists at all career levels, and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, and mid-career scientists (5-15 years from Ph.D.). Competitive salaries, on-campus housing, and other resources are available for periods of 2-11 months for researchers in all mathematical subject areas. Successful candidates will be free to devote themselves full-time to research." <<link>>

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities

American Physical Society
Congressional Science Fellowships
Deadline: December 1
"It is the aim of the APS and AIP in sponsoring these fellowships to provide a public service by making available individuals with scientific knowledge and skills to Members of Congress, few of whom have a technical background. In turn, the program enables scientists to broaden their experience through direct involvement with the legislative and political processes. Fellows gain a perspective which, ideally, will enhance not only their own careers but also the physics community's ability to more effectively communicate with its representatives in Congress. Today's budget climate makes this ability of increasing importance as shrinking resources force hard choices between worthy projects."
<<link>>

Austen Riggs Center
Erikson Scholar Program
Deadline: December 1
"We offer an Adult Psychoanalytic Training Program and Fellowship in Hospital-Based Psychotherapy for both psychiatrists (post-residency) and psychologists (postdoctoral). Psychiatrists are also eligible to apply for a two-year Fellowship. Psychology Fellows are eligible for licensure after completion of the first 24 months of the postdoctoral Fellowship." <<link>>

Morris Animal Foundation
Equine Behavior and Welfare Grant Proposals
Deadline: December 13
"Morris Animal Foundation works tirelessly to accelerate promising research focused on improving the lives of animals around the world. We fund the best researchers, conducting the best science, whether in a clinical trial, in the lab, or out in the field. We welcome applications from dedicated scientists who seek not only to discover but to turn discoveries into action for animals." <<link>>

Office of Naval Research
Summer Faculty Research Program
Deadline: December 14
"There are numerous benefits of the Summer Faculty Research Program:
Broaden the scope and horizon of faculty member's research interests and provide a foundation for future research collaborations.
Allow access to equipment and other resources not available at their home institution.
Provide an understanding of the Department of the Navy research interests and the technological implications thereof, thus enhancing the abilities of Fellows to pursue and obtain funding for research at their home institution.
Foster lasting relationships between Fellows and the researchers at the Navy laboratories."
<<link>>

Blavatnik Family Foundation
US Regional Awards
Deadline: December 14
"The Blavatnik Regional Awards acknowledge and celebrate the excellence of outstanding postdoctoral scientists from institutions in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut working in the three disciplinary categories of Life Sciences, Physical Sciences & Engineering, and Chemical Sciences." <<link>>

Gruber Foundation
Genetics Prize
Deadline: December 15
"Nominations for the Genetics Prize are invited annually from the field of genetics. Nominations may be submitted by individuals that are active in or have an appreciation for contemporary genetic research or problems." <<link>>

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities

Gruber Foundation
Cosmology Prize
Deadline: December 15
"Nominations for the Cosmology Prize are invited annually from the fields of astronomy, cosmology, mathematics, and the philosophy of science. Individuals that are active in or have an appreciation for contemporary cosmological research and study may submit nominations." <<link>>

National Science Foundation
Statistics
Deadline: December 15
"The Statistics Program supports research in statistical theory and methods, including research in statistical methods for applications to any domain of science and engineering. The theory forms the base for statistical science. The methods are used for stochastic modeling, and the collection, analysis and interpretation of data. The methods characterize uncertainty in the data and facilitate advancement in science and engineering. The Program encourages proposals ranging from single-investigator projects to interdisciplinary team projects." <<link>>

McGovern Institute
Scolnick Prize in Neuroscience
Deadline: December 15
"The Scolnick Prize is awarded annually by the McGovern Institute to recognize outstanding advances in the field of neuroscience. The prize is named in honor of Edward M. Scolnick, who stepped down as president of Merck Research Laboratories in December 2002 after holding Merck's top research post for 17 years. Scolnick is now at the Broad Institute, where he established the Stanley Center for Psychiatric Research. He also served as a member of the McGovern Institute's scientific advisory board. The prize, which is endowed through a gift from Merck to the McGovern Institute, consists of a $200,000 award, plus an inscribed gift." <<link>>

American Chemical Society
Green Chemistry Grant
Deadline: December 16
"To recognize outstanding efforts by Contract Manufacturing Organization (CMO) companies in pharmaceutical green chemistry in support of pharmaceutical research, development and manufacturing that demonstrate compelling environmental, safety and/or efficiency improvements." <<link>>

American Federation for Aging Research
Glenn Foundation for Medical Research and
AFAR Grants for Junior Faculty
Deadline: December 18
"The Glenn Foundation for Medical Research (GFMR) and AFAR provide up to $150,000 for a one- to two-year award to junior faculty (MDs and PhDs) to conduct research that will serve as the basis for longer term research efforts on the biology of aging. These investigators study a broad range of biomedical and clinical topics related to aging. The Letter of Intent deadline is December 18, 2023."

American Psychological Foundation
Dr. Rosalee G. Weiss Lecture for Outstanding Leaders in Psychology
Deadline: December 31

"This lecture was established in 1994 by Raymond A. Weiss, PhD, in honor of his wife, Rosalee Greenfield Weiss, PhD. APA Div. 29 (Psychotherapy) and 42 (Psychologists in Independent Practice), upon approval by the APF board of trustees, select an annual Weiss lecturer to speak at the APA convention. The lecturer is an outstanding leader in psychology, or a leader in the arts or sciences whose work and activities have had an effect on psychology. Award recipients receive an $1,000 honorarium from the APF." <<link>>

LIBRARY SCIENCE

ACLS
Digital Justice Grants
Deadline: December 15

"The ACLS Digital Justice Grant program is designed to promote and provide resources for projects at various stages of development that diversify the digital domain, advance justice and equity in digital scholarly practice, and/or contribute to public understanding of racial and social justice issues. This program especially supports projects that engage with the interests and histories of people of color and other historically marginalized communities, including (but not limited to) Black, Latinx, and Indigenous communities; people with disabilities; and queer, trans, and gender nonconforming people. In this way, the program seeks to address the inequities in the distribution of access to tools and support for digital work among scholars across various fields, those working with under-utilized or understudied source materials, and those in institutions with less support for digital projects. " <<link>>
