

Grant Opportunities & News You Can Use

Hello faculty,

The leaves have turned, we’ve rolled back our clocks, and Thanksgiving has already come and gone! As we say goodbye to November, we greet a Featured Funder column spotlighting humanities and social science-focused opportunities for early career faculty. We continue our Sage Advice Series on “AI in Higher Education” with a column featuring Dorothy Zhang, a Class of 2025 Barnard College Student who shares insights on how scientists can leverage generative AI to communicate with larger audiences. Please note that the History of American Philanthropy column is on hold through January.

We have news stories and brief thumbnails of opportunities coming due in January. And in the back, we have six months’ worth of deadlines. (As always, check the website! Some of the later deadlines have not yet been released.) The next internal grant deadline for the 2023-2024 academic year is January 23rd, 2024 for Faculty Research Grants.

Lastly, IFSR is developing a survey to gauge faculty needs and ways we can continue to support your research and curricular endeavors. If you are interested in sharing any thoughts that could be helpful as we identify key survey priorities, we would love to hear from you at our upcoming office hours. As always, we will have office hours on Zoom the first Friday of the month. Drop by Friday, December 1, any time from 10-11 to share thoughts for our survey, pitch a project, get advice on funding, or just say hi. You can find us here:

Featured Funder: Early Career Awards in Humanities & Social Sciences

In last month's issue, we spotlighted fellowships supporting early career faculty in STEM fields. This month, we shift our focus to opportunities in the humanities and social sciences for early career faculty. The fellowships below encompass diverse disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, and welcome a range of project stages.

- ⇒ ACLS Fellowships: ACLS invites research proposals from scholars in all disciplines of the humanities and interpretive social sciences. ACLS Fellowships are intended to help untenured scholars, working on or off the tenure track, who have earned a PhD in the humanities or humanistic social sciences, devote six to twelve months to full-time research and writing at any appropriate site for research the fellowship. Funding: $60,000 for 12 months or $5,000/month; Anticipated Deadline: September 2024
- ⇒ Kennan Institute Title VIII Research Scholarships: Scholarships lasting three to nine months are available to academic participants in the early stages of their career (before tenure) or scholars whose careers have been interrupted or delayed. Research proposals examining the countries of Eurasia are eligible. Grant recipients are required to be in residence at the Institute in Washington, D.C. for the duration of their fellowship. Funding: $3,500/month for a 3-9 month period; Anticipated Deadline: January 2024
- ⇒ CAORC-NEH Research Fellowship: The Council of American Overseas Research Centers - National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Research Fellowship provides the opportunity for scholars to spend significant time in one country with an Overseas Research Center as a base. The fellowship supports advanced research in the humanities, including history, philosophy, religious studies, linguistics, languages, literature, literary criticism, and visual and performing arts. Funding: $5000/month for a 4-6 month period; Deadline: January 24, 2024
- ⇒ William T. Grant Scholars Program: The program supports career development for promising early-career researchers. The program funds five-year research and mentoring plans that significantly expand researchers' expertise in the focus areas of Reducing Inequality and Improving the Use of Research Evidence in ways that benefit youth. Applicants must be nominated by their institutions. Funding: $350,000 over five years; Anticipated Deadline: March, 2024
- ⇒ J. Robert Beyster Fellowship, Louis O. Kelso Fellowship & Other Fellowships: These fellowships are open to Ph.D. students, and junior and senior scholars for the 2024–2025 research fellowship competition in sociology—specifically economic sociology, inequality/poverty/mobility, organizations/occupations/and work, sociology of race and gender, sociology of wealth and inequality, labor and labor movements, organizational sociology, political sociology, and social movements with particular interest in addressing wealth inequality. Scholars will be in residence at their own Universities. Funding: $25,000; Deadline: February 29, 2024
- ⇒ NEH Summer Stipends: The National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Stipends program aims to stimulate new research in the humanities and its publication. Small awards to individuals support projects at any stage of development, but especially early-stage research and late-stage writing. Funding: Maximum of $6,000; Anticipated Deadline: June 18, 2024
- ⇒ Whiting Public Engagement Fellowship: This fellowship funds public-facing projects in the humanities that are far enough along in development or execution that the nominee can present compelling, specific evidence that they will successfully engage the intended public. Funding: $50,000; Anticipated Deadline: Website shares to check back in early 2024 for more information.

While we hope this list helps, this is only a snapshot of the opportunities available in the humanities and social sciences. If you are interested in learning about more opportunities, feel free to email us and we would love to help create a tailored list of funding opportunities to your research goals.

Sage Advice: Leveraging AI to Communicate Ideas to Broader Audiences Feat. Dorothy Zhang

Before coming to Barnard, images of brainy people sitting in a room discussing esoteric matters came to Dorothy Zhang's mind when she thought of "research." When Dorothy attended an admitted students day at Barnard, she didn't expect the possibility of conducting research to play such a vital role in deciding where to attend college. But after hearing Dr. Lydia Chilton, Assistant Professor in the Computer Science Department at Columbia University, speak beyond theoretical capabilities of technology to address the practical uses of AI that could help people now, Dorothy knew she wanted to get involved in research and attend Barnard.

This September, Dorothy, a Class of 2025 Computer Science major from Bellevue, Washington, presented research she conducted with Dr. Chilton as a Bridgewater Scholar. IFSR staff saw Dorothy's poster presentation on how faculty can use AI to communicate complex science topics to broader audiences, and we knew she would have much to offer for our Sage Advice Series on AI in Higher Education. Dorothy's work with Dr. Chilton strengthens the workflow of using generative AI to help create science-based content for Tweeterial, a Twitter based platform of threads of 280-character-maximum tweets that serve as tutorials for complex topics to larger audiences. The generative AI that Dorothy and Dr. Chilton have been refining helps researchers generate hooks and remove language barriers, such as jargon, which allows non-experts to learn and engage with complex topics. We sat down with Dorothy to learn more about her research. Here are a few takeaways about AI and how it can help you share your ideas:

- ⇒ Using Generative AI to help explain complex science topics can democratize information: Dorothy shared that, in her personal experience, she is developing an expertise in computer science, but can "sometimes feel like an infant" when engaging in other new and complex topics. Having access to a platform that can help complex ideas be more digestible has allowed her to follow her own curiosity and passion for learning new topics. Dorothy wants as many people to experience accessibility to new information, and the workflows used with generative AI has "helped streamline researchers' writing process" to make information more democratized.
- ⇒ Generative AI can do more than replace jargon to help make research accessible: Dorothy emphasized the importance of replacing jargon in her research. Because Tweeterial is a space where information is aimed to be shared with those who may be seasoned and new to a topic, limiting scientific and academic jargon is important to "encourage the curiosity" of those hoping to learn more about a topic. While removing jargon avoids alienating those hoping to learn more, Dorothy shared that including intentional and relatable examples helps with accessibility to learning complex topics. Dorothy and Dr. Chilton's research prioritizes using generative AI to identify relevant examples that help others connect to the learning experience.
- ⇒ The goal is to help researchers, not replace them: Dorothy stressed that, beyond democratizing information, a part of the goal of their research is to help "lighten the mental load of coming up with ideas from scratch" or get new ideas of how to communicate information. This model of generative AI operating as a support tool for scientists is still a challenging one and is not yet at a stage where AI can develop scripts for spaces like Tweeterial without the expertise of scientists to fill in gaps. Dorothy emphasized that scientists and their expertise are still invaluable. As best put by Dorothy, "the goal is not to use AI to create the best explanation of a topic but to support scientists as they do."

Grant Opportunities

GENERAL INTERESTS AND CROSS-DISCIPLINARY

Larry J. Hackman Research Residency Program

Deadline: January 15

“The Larry J. Hackman Research Residency Program supports advanced work on New York State history, government, or public policy using archival records in the State Archives. The program is intended to defray travel-related research expenses and support on-site research at the Archives by faculty and graduate students in the humanities and social, natural, and life sciences; public historians; and teachers.” <<link>>

Harvard University

Houghton Library Visiting Fellowship

Deadline: January 19

“The Visiting Fellowship program offers scholars at all stages of their careers funding to pursue projects that require in-depth research on the library’s holdings, as well as opportunities to draw on staff expertise and participate in intellectual life at Harvard.” <<link>>

ARTS AND HUMANITIES

San Jose State University

Steinbeck Fellowships in Creative Writing

Deadline: January 3

“The Steinbeck Fellows Program, endowed through the generosity of Martha Heasley Cox, offers emerging writers of any age and background the opportunity to pursue a significant writing project during their fellowship tenure. The emphasis of the program is on helping writers who have had some success but have not published extensively, and whose promising work would be aided by the financial support and sponsorship of the Center and the University's creative writing program.”

Leon Levy Center for Biography at the Graduate Center, CUNY

Fellowships

Deadline: January 4

“The Leon Levy Center for Biography offers four resident fellowships and one Sloan fellowship for a biography in science. Awards include writing space at the CUNY Graduate Center, full access to research facilities, research assistance and a stipend of $72,000. The period of the residencies is September – May of each year.” <<link>>

Yale Center for British Art Visiting Scholars Program

Deadline: January 5

“Awardees will receive a dedicated working space in the museum's Reference Library and are encouraged to participate in events and programs at the museum, and to engage with the scholarly community of the university. They are also able to take advantage of the extensive collections at other Yale museums and libraries.” <<link>>

National Endowment for the Humanities Digital Humanities Advancement Grant

Deadline: January 11

“The Digital Humanities Advancement Grants program (DHAG) supports innovative, experimental, and/or computationally challenging digital projects, leading to work that can scale to enhance scholarly research, teaching, and public programming in the humanities.” <<link>>

The Library Company of Philadelphia Short Term fellowships

Deadline: January 15

“The Library Company of Philadelphia and the Historical Society of Pennsylvania offer many opportunities for support in the form of one-month fellowships for research in residence in either or both institutions.

These two independent research libraries, adjacent to each other in Center City Philadelphia, have complementary collections capable of supporting research in a variety of fields and disciplines relating to the history of the United States and the Atlantic world from the 17th through the 19th centuries, as well as Mid-Atlantic regional history to the present.” <<link>>

Winterthur Fellowships

Deadline: January 15

“Winterthur is the premier museum of American decorative arts, with an unparalleled collection of nearly 90,000 objects made or used in America since 1640. The collection is displayed in the magnificent 175-room house, much as it was when the family of founder Henry Francis du Pont called it home.

Winterthur is also 1,000 acres of protected meadows, woodlands, ponds, and waterways. The 60-acre garden, designed by du Pont, is among America's best, with magnificent plantings and massive displays of color throughout the year. The graduate degree programs and extensive research library make Winterthur an important center for the study of American art and culture.” <<link>>

Ellen Meloy Fund Desert Writers Award

Deadline: January 15

“The Ellen Meloy Fund for Desert Writers grants one $5,000 award in the spring of each year. Only proposals for literary or creative nonfiction book projects will be considered. No fiction or poetry proposals will be reviewed.

The Fund supports writing that combines an engaging individual voice, literary sensibility, imagination and intellectual rigor to bring new perspectives and deeper meaning to the body of desert literature. All applications will be reviewed through a peer-panel process.” <<link>>

Folger Shakespeare Library Short Term Fellowship

Deadline: January 15

“Short-term fellowships support scholars whose work would benefit from significant primary research for one, two, or three months, with a monthly stipend of $4,000. These fellowships are designed to support a concentrated period of full-time work on research projects that draw on the strengths of the Folger’s collections and programs. Additionally, these on-site, virtual, or hybrid fellowships provide researchers with the opportunity to engage in collections-based research within an interdisciplinary community as well as informal opportunities to discuss their research with and receive feedback from this community regularly.” <<link>>

The John Carter Brown Library at Brown University Fellowships

Deadline: January 16

“Fellowships are awarded to scholars to support dedicated research, either remotely or in residence, in the JCB’s collections. Fellowship awards include a stipend, which varies for short and long-term fellowships.” <<link>>

Adolph & Esther Gottlieb Foundation Individual Support Grants

Deadline: January 17

“The Foundation wishes to encourage artists who have dedicated their lives to developing their art, regardless of their level of commercial success. Please note that these grants are available only to individual painters, sculptors, and printmakers who have worked in a mature phase of art for 20 years or more.” <<link>>

National Endowment for the Arts Translation Projects Fellowship

Deadline: January 18

“Through fellowships to published translators, the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) supports projects for the translation of specific works of prose, poetry, or drama from other languages into English. The work to be translated should be of interest for its literary excellence and merit. We encourage translations of writers and of work that are not well represented in English, as well as work that has not previously been translated into English. The NEA is committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and fostering mutual support for the diverse beliefs and values of all individuals and groups.” <<link>>

American Council of Learned Societies Robert H.N. Ho Family Foundation Buddhism Public Scholars grant

Deadline: January 18

“The Robert H. N. Ho Family Foundation Buddhism Public Scholars Fellowships in Buddhist Studies places recent recipients of the PhD in professional positions at host institutions (museums, libraries, and publications) that present and interpret knowledge of Buddhist traditions. The selected Buddhism Public Scholars will use their academic knowledge and professional expertise to bolster the capacity of host institutions in the area of Buddhist art and thought in any tradition and location where Buddhism is practiced. We expect the Buddhism Public Scholars initiative to nurture mutually beneficial partnerships between scholars and hosts that will help disseminate knowledge of Buddhist traditions to broad publics.” <<link>>

Virginia Museum of History and Culture Research Fellowship and Award

Deadline: January 26

“Founded in 1831, the Virginia Historical Society is a private, nonprofit, educational institution supported by membership dues and endowment. Its wealth of cataloged materials includes books,

Improving Undergraduate STEM Education: IUSE EDU

Deadline: January 17

“Supports projects to improve STEM teaching and learning for undergraduate students, including studying what works and for whom and how to transform institutions to adopt successful practices in STEM education.” <<link>>

Spencer Foundation

Large Research Grants

Deadline: January 24

“The Large Research Grants on Education Program supports education research projects that will contribute to the improvement of education, broadly conceived, with budgets ranging from $125,000 to $500,000 for projects ranging from one to five years. We anticipate awarding grants with budgets across each of the following funding tiers -- $125,000 to 250,000; $250,001 to $375,000; and $375,001 to $500,000. Within each of our funding tiers, we evaluate projects within tier and strongly encourage applicants to submit for funding that best fits their project rather than applying for the highest amount. We accept Intent to Apply forms twice a year.” <<link>>

SOCIAL SCIENCES

William T. Grant Foundation

Research Grants on Reducing Inequality

Deadline: January 10

“This program supports research to build, test, or increase understanding of programs, policies, or practices to reduce inequality in the academic, social, behavioral, or economic outcomes of young people ages 5-25 in the United States.” <<link>>

William T. Grant Foundation

Research Grants on Improving the Use of Research Evidence

Deadline: January 10

“This program supports research on strategies focused on improving the use, usefulness, and impact of evidence in ways that benefit young people ages 5-25 in the United States.” <<link>>

The Leakey Foundation

Research Grants

Deadline: January 10

“The Leakey Foundation exclusively funds research related to human origins. Priority of funding is commonly given to exploratory phases of promising new research projects that meet the stated purpose of the Foundation. The majority of The Leakey Foundation’s Research Grants awarded to doctoral students are in the $3,000-$15,000 range with a funding limit of $20,000. Larger grants given to senior scientists and post-doctoral researchers may be funded up to $30,000.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation Social Psychology

Deadline: January 16

“Supports research and infrastructure to advance knowledge of human social behavior, including neural and physiological patterns; thought and emotion processes; and intentions, actions and habits that explain ways of thinking about and relating to others.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation Research on the Science and Technology Enterprise: Indicators, Statistics, and Methods (NCSES S&T)

Deadline: January 16

“Supports using data on STEM to produce statistics and indicators about R&D activities and the STEM workforce as well as develop new data and analysis methodologies.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation Cultural Anthropology Senior Research Award

Deadline: January 16

“Supports research aimed at understanding patterns, causes and consequences of human social and cultural variation, including research that has implications for confronting anthropogenic problems.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation Developmental Sciences (DS)

Deadline: January 30

“Supports research on the cognitive, linguistic, social, cultural and biological processes involved in human development across the life span — illuminating the developmental processes that support individuals in living productive lives as members of society.” <<link>>

The Classical Association of the Middle West and South Excavation/Field School Award

Deadline: January 30

“The Classical Association of the Middle West and South annually awards three $2000.00 scholarships for participation in summer excavation or field school at an archaeological site in the Greco-Roman world. These awards may support individuals engaged in any stage of the work, including physical excavation, illustration, digital recording, faunal and ceramic analysis. Generally, one award will be made to at least one graduate student and another to an undergraduate, but teachers at all levels of instruction are also eligible for this award.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation Biological Anthropology

Deadline: January 31

“Supports field, laboratory and computational research on human and nonhuman primate adaptation, variation and evolution to advance knowledge about human origins and the dynamics between biology and culture.” <<link>>

LANGUAGE AND AREA STUDIES

Palestinian American Research Center Fellowship for U.S. Scholars Conducting Field-Based Research on Palestine

Deadline: January 8

“The Palestinian American Research Center (PARC) announces its 25th annual U.S. research fellowship competition for research that will contribute to Palestinian Studies. Applicants must be doctoral students or scholars who have earned their PhD and must be U.S. citizens.” <<link>>

American Classical League Scholarships

Deadline: January 15

“ACL wants to help our members enhance their teaching by encouraging them to travel, take courses, attend professional meetings, and engage in professional development that is concerned with Latin, Greek and the ancient world where these languages prevailed.” <<link>>

Chiang Ching-Kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange Publication Subsidies

Deadline: January 15

“Academic publishers or full-time faculty may apply for subsidies for the publication of scholarly works related to the goals of the Foundation. The publication may be in the form of a book or a monograph. Applications will be accepted for completed book manuscripts, but not for books in a series. Priority will be given to first book projects by junior scholars. Publication subsidies usually range between $5,000 to $10,000. Publication Subsidy Grants may only be used to cover editing, indexing, and other relevant publication costs.” <<link>>

Esherick-Ye Family Foundation Grants

Deadline: January 19

“The Esherick-Ye Family Foundation was founded in 2016 by Joseph W. Esherick and his wife Ye Wa to support research on Chinese history and archaeology, fields to which they have devoted a lifetime of scholarship. The foundation offers small grants of up to $6000 to students and junior faculty for research and field work on China.” <<link>>

NUS-Stanford Lee Kong Chian Distinguished Fellowship on Contemporary Southeast Asia

Deadline: January 26

“Lee Kong Chian NUS-Stanford fellows spend three to four months at Stanford and three to four months at NUS writing and conducting research on, or related to, contemporary Southeast Asia.

One or two candidates may be awarded fellowships each year. Fellows have opportunities to present their research and participate in seminars and workshops organized by relevant campus units. Exposure to the two universities and their scholars and resources enriches and diversifies collegial feedback on the fellows’ research projects and facilitates intellectual exchange and networking on both sides of the Pacific.” <<link>>

Harvard University Ukrainian Research Institute HURI/Ukrainian Studies Research Fellowship

Deadline: January 31

“HURI Research Fellowships in Ukrainian Studies are granted for a single academic term (typically 4 months) to scholars engaged in research pertaining to Ukraine.” <<link>>

Harvard University Ukrainian Research Institute Petro Jacyk Distinguished Fellowship

Deadline: January 31

“Jacyk Distinguished Fellowships are designed to bring senior scholars to Harvard University for one academic term of focused research in Ukrainian history, literature, philology, culture, and other related areas of study in the humanities and social sciences fields. While in residence, the Jacyk Distinguished Fellow will use Harvard’s unique resources to work on significant and innovative projects in Ukrainian studies, and in general to further his or her professional development. In addition, the Jacyk Distinguished Fellow will preside over the Petro Jacyk Seminar in Ukrainian Studies, a forum presented as part of the HURI Seminar Series in Ukrainian Studies.” <<link>> government interaction among psychologists and within the federal government.” <<link>>

National Science Foundation

Advancing Informal STEM Learning

Deadline: January 10

“Supports research on the design, development and impact of STEM learning opportunities and experiences for the public in informal educational environments.” <<link>>

Kinship Conservation Fellows

Deadline: January 14

“The Kinship Conservation Fellowship supports conservation practitioners across the globe. The program is designed to advance your career and equip you with new skills, insights, and analytical tools to accelerate the projects you lead at home.” <<link>>

Whitehall Foundation

Grants-in-Aid and Research Grants

Deadline: January 15

“The Whitehall Foundation, through its program of grants and grants-in-aid, assists scholarly research in the life sciences. It is the Foundation's policy to assist those dynamic areas of basic biological research that are not heavily supported by Federal Agencies or other foundations with specialized missions. In order to respond to the changing environment, the Whitehall Foundation periodically reassesses the need for financial support by the various fields of biological research.” <<link>>

McKnight Foundation

Scholar Award

Deadline: January 15

“The McKnight Scholar Awards are given to exceptional young scientists who are in the early stages of establishing an independent laboratory and research career. The intent of the program is to foster the commitment by these scientists to research careers that will have an important impact on the study of the brain. The program seeks to support scientists committed to mentoring neuroscientists from underrepresented groups at all levels of training. Applicants for the McKnight Scholar Award must demonstrate their ability to solve significant problems in neuroscience, which may include the translation of basic research to clinical practice. They should demonstrate a commitment to an equitable and inclusive lab environment.” <<link>>

“The purpose of this program is to support research education activities that: (a) Complement and/or enhance the training of a workforce to meet the nation's biomedical, behavioral and clinical research needs; (b) Enhance the diversity of the biomedical, behavioral and clinical research workforce; (c) Help recruit individuals with specific specialty or disciplinary backgrounds to research careers in biomedical, behavioral and clinical sciences; or (d) Foster a better understanding of biomedical, behavioral and clinical research and its implications.” <<link>>

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities

National Institutes of Health

P-Series, R18, U18, R25

Deadline: January 25

“P-Series: “Program project/center grants are large, multi-project efforts that generally include a diverse array of research activities.”

R18, U18, R25: Research Demonstration, Education Projects” <<link>>

The L’Oréal USA for Women in Science Fellowship Program

Deadline: January 26

“We’re seeking five exceptional female scientists looking to advance their research and serve as role models for the next generation of girls in STEM. Candidates must have completed their PhD and have started in their postdoctoral research position by the application deadline.” <<link>>

LIBRARY SCIENCE

University of Oregon Libraries

Le Guin Feminist Science Fiction Fellowship

Deadline: January 5

“The intention of the Le Guin Feminist Science Fiction Fellowship is to encourage research within collections in the area of feminist science fiction. The UO Libraries Special Collections and University Archives (SCUA) houses the papers of authors Ursula K. Le Guin, Joanna Russ, James Tiptree, Jr., Kate Wilhelm, Suzette Haden Elgin, Sally Miller Gearhart, Kate Elliot, Molly Gloss, Laurie Marks, and Jessica Salmonson, along with Damon Knight. SCUA is also in the process of acquiring the papers of other key feminist science fiction authors.” <<link>>

National Endowment for the Humanities

National Digital Newspaper Program

Deadline: January 12

“The National Digital Newspaper Program (NDNP) is a partnership between the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Library of Congress (LC) to create a national digital resource of historically significant newspapers published between 1690 and 1963, from all the states and U.S. jurisdictions.” <<link>>

National Endowment for the Humanities Sustaining Cultural Heritage Collections

Deadline: January 12

“Cultural institutions, including libraries, archives, museums, and historical organizations, face a complex challenge: to preserve humanities collections for future generations through environmentally sustainable preventive care strategies to reduce energy consumption and costs as well as to strengthen institutional resiliency in the face of a changing climate. Cultural institutions can accomplish this work most effectively through managing collections’ environment, including aspects such as temperature, relative humidity, pollutants, and light; providing protective storage enclosures and systems for collections; and safeguarding collections from theft, fire, floods, and other disasters. By using environmentally sustainable methods, institutions reduce reliance on fossil fuels and to ensure collections are better protected from current and future disasters.” <<link>>
