

Grant Opportunities & News You Can Use

Hello Barnard faculty,

This edition of the Grant Opportunities Newsletter features funders who support publication subvention. Our Sage Advice again highlights an infographic from the U.S. Health and Human Services Office of Research Integrity. This time, ORI recommends best proposal writing practices and points out problematic shortcuts to avoid.

This edition profiles a full cohort of opportunities coming due in late January and early February, which pushes back to page thirteen the list of all deadlines through May, grouped by discipline.

The Barnard College Council on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion announced INTERNAL faculty grants earlier this month. Information can be found in the News section. Other upcoming internal grant deadlines are November 20th and January 31st. See the Barnard website, here, for more information. If you have colleagues abroad whom you might like to bring to Barnard under the Weiss Fellowships for Visiting International Scholars Program, please see information here.

If you would like assistance in finding grants for an upcoming project or would like to begin an application process, please contact Kari Steeves. As always, feel free to send any comments, requests, or suggestions to us here.

Grants for Publication Subvention

While there are many grants available to help fund scholarly research, it can be difficult to find support for publication related expenses. We've compiled a short list of grants that pay for publication subvention:

Whiting Creative Nonfiction Grant

Deadline: To be announced. 2018 deadline was May 2

"This grant is intended to support the completion of multi-year book projects requiring large amounts of deep and focused thinking, research, and writing at a crucial point toward the end of the process—after significant work has been accomplished but when an extra infusion of resources can make a difference in the ultimate shape and quality of the work."

J.M. Kaplan Fund — Furthermore Grants in Publishing

Deadline: March 1 and September 1 (annual deadlines)

"Furthermore grants assist nonfiction books having to do with art, architecture, and design; cultural history, the city, and related public issues; and conservation and preservation. Grants range from $1,500 to a maximum of $15,000. Funds apply to such specific publication components as writing, research, editing, indexing, design, illustration, photography, and print and binding."

Columbia University Seminars — Leonard Hastings Schoff Publication Fund

Deadline: Rolling

"Schoff publication funds can be used for indexing, translating, technical editing, illustrating, or other publication costs of manuscripts or monographs produced under the auspices of The University Seminars in the fields of economics, sociology, psychology, penology, or the behavioral sciences which have already been approved for publication. Other funds are sometimes available in other fields, including the sciences."

Textbook and Academic Authors Association — Academic & Textbook Writing Grants

Deadline: April 30 and October 31 (annual deadlines)

"Publication Grants provide reimbursement for eligible expenses directly related to bringing an academic book, textbook or journal article to publication, ranging from $300--$1,000. Publication Grants reimburse only those expenses that are necessary to the publication of the work (not the initial research and writing of it) which includes image permissions, indexing or copyediting, and publisher fees."

National Endowment for the Humanities — Mellon Fellowships for Digital Publication

Deadline: April 10, 2019

"Support individual scholars pursuing interpretive research projects that require digital expression and digital publication. To be eligible for this special opportunity, an applicant's plans for digital publication must be essential to the project's research goals. Successful projects will likely incorporate visual, audio, and/or other multimedia materials or flexible reading pathways that could not be included in traditionally published books, as well as an active distribution plan."

Barbara Deming Memorial Fund

Deadline: January 31, 2019

"We award small artist support grants ($500—$1,500) to individual feminist women in the arts." ... "We are interested in funding projects which you have begun or are well underway, and for which you have substantial work to show." 2019 deadline is for nonfiction and poetry. 2020 deadline is for visual art, fiction, and mixed genre.

Sage Advice for Competitive Proposals

Office of Research Integrity

The U.S. Health and Human Services Office of Research Integrity released another infographic, this time with sage advice around falsification, fabrication, or plagiarism. We discovered these through Twitter, which brings up another piece of sage advice: If you're on Twitter, follow us @BarnardIFSR so we can follow you back and retweet your Barnard-related tweets.

Applying for a Grant? DON'T TAKE SHORTCUTS

All researchers understand the pressure of submitting a grant application on time. This pressure may lead some to take shortcuts that potentially lead to research misconduct. Here are some things you can do to maintain research integrity in your grant application:

From the NSF

NSF New PAPPG

NSF has announced that a revised version of the NSF Proposal & Award Policies & Procedures Guide (PAPPG) has been issued.

"The new PAPPG will be effective for proposals submitted, or due, on or after January 28, 2019. Significant changes include:

- Addition of Research.gov as an option for proposal preparation and submission, and proposal file updates;...
- Revision of resubmission guidelines for NSF programs that accept proposals at any time;
- Implementation of NSF's policy on sexual harassment and other forms of harassment, or sexual assault;
- Specification that proposers are required to have a policy or code-of-conduct that addresses sexual harassment, other forms of harassment, and sexual assault, and that includes clear and accessible means of reporting violations of the policy or code-of-conduct. This policy or code-of-conduct must be disseminated to conference participants prior to attendance at the conference as well as made available at the conference itself;
- Emphasis on the importance of training faculty in the responsible and ethical conduct of research;...

- Numerous clarifications and other changes throughout the document."

Grant Opportunities

Banff Center

International Literary Translation Centre

Deadline: January 30, 2019

"The primary focus of the residency program is to afford literary translators a period of uninterrupted work on a current project, within an international community of translators. The Banff International Literary Translation Centre is open to literary translators from Canada, Mexico, and the United States translating from any language, and to international translators working on literature from the Americas. Applicants must have published at least one book-length literary translation (or equivalent). The award amount can cover the entire cost for a three-week internship, as well as a travel award if necessary." <<more>>

University of London, School of Advanced Study Institute of Advanced Legal Studies Visiting Research Fellowship Programme

Deadline: January 31, 2019

"Welcoming researchers in any area of legal scholarship who can profit from the strengths of its holdings in United Kingdom and foreign law: its particular research interests lie in legal education and the profession; company and partnership law; financial services regulation; economic crime; comparative law; law reform; and the law of children." <<more>>

Humanities Institute University of Connecticut Residential Fellowships

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"UConn's Humanities Fellowships are opportunities for individuals to pursue advanced work in the humanities. Projects may contribute to scholarly knowledge or to the general public's understanding of the humanities. Recipients are expected to produce scholarly articles, a monograph on a specialized subject, a book on a broad topic, an archaeological site report, a translation, an edition, or other scholarly tools." <<more>>

University of Cincinnati McMicken College of Arts and Sciences Department of Classics

Margo Tytus Fellowship Program

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"Senior scholars are invited to apply for the Margo Tytus Visiting Scholars Program. Applicants for this program will ordinarily be a minimum of five years beyond receipt of the Ph.D., with notable publication histories. Tytus Scholars are expected to be in residence at the University of Cincinnati for a minimum of one semester (ca. four months) and a maximum of two during the regular academic year." <<more>>

Fine Arts Work Center

Visual Arts Fellowship

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"Located in Provincetown, Massachusetts, an area with a long history as an arts colony, the Work Center provides seven-month Fellowships to twenty Fellows each year in the form of living/work space and a modest monthly stipend. Residencies run from October 1 through April 30. Fellows have the opportunity to pursue their work independently in a diverse and supportive community of peers." <<more>>

Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission

Creative Artists Fellowships

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"The Japan U.S. Friendship Commission offers leading contemporary and traditional artists from the United States the opportunity to spend three to five months in Japan through the U.S.-Japan Creative Artists Program. Artists go as seekers, as cultural visionaries, and as living liaisons to the traditional and contemporary cultural life of Japan. They also go as connectors who share knowledge and bring back knowledge. Their interaction with the Japanese public and the outlook they bring home provide exceptional opportunities to promote cultural understanding between the United States and Japan." <<more>>

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities (cont'd)

University of London, School of Advanced Study Institute of English Studies Fellowship

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"The activities of the Institute of English Studies attract those interested in the English language and its literatures (including other national and international literatures in English), in the History of the Book, and in cognate fields of study. Its approach is interdisciplinary, and it co-ordinates a substantial amount of research activity through the Centre for Manuscript and Print Studies which it hosts on behalf of a cross-sectoral group of seven universities and libraries including the British Library and the St Bride Printing Library. It has a strong presence in the writing of national histories of the book in Britain and Ireland and a strong presence in mediaeval English Palaeography. It hosts a variety of Research Seminar series annually, and about twenty conferences, as well as an ambitious publishing programme." <<more>>

Mary Baker Eddy Library Fellowship Program

Deadline: February 4, 2019

"The Mary Baker Eddy Library awards fellowships annually. These are designed to support original contributions to scholarship. They help further the research of established scholars, graduate students, and recent graduates just beginning their academic careers. Fellowships are for research work in our collections, centering on the papers of Mary Baker Eddy and records documenting the history of the Christian Science movement. Relevant areas of research include the fields of women's history; spirituality and health; religious studies; nineteenth-century history; cultural and social history; architecture; and journalism."

<<more>>

Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, Harvard University

Schlesinger Oral History Grants

Deadline: February 4, 2019

"The Schlesinger Library invites scholars who are conducting oral history interviews relevant to the history of women or gender in the United States to apply for support of up to $3,000.

This grant stipulates that the interviews take place in accordance with guidelines of the Oral History Association, that consent is obtained from interviewees for their words to be viewed by researchers worldwide, and that true copies or transcripts of the original recording of the oral interviews, as well as copies of the consent forms, be deposited in the Schlesinger Library upon completion." <<more>>

Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, Harvard University

Schlesinger Research Grant

Deadline: February 4, 2019

"The Schlesinger Library invites scholars and other serious researchers at any career stage beyond graduate school to apply for support for their work in our collections. Grants of up to $3,000 will be given on a competitive basis. Applicants must have a doctoral degree or equivalent research and writing experience. Priority will be given to those who have demonstrated research productivity and whose projects require use of materials available only at the Schlesinger Library. The awards may be used to cover travel and living expenses, photocopies or other reproductions, and other incidental research expenses, but not for the purchase of equipment or travel to other sites for research." <<more>>

National Endowment for the Humanities Public Scholar Program

Deadline: February 6, 2019

"The Public Scholar Program supports well-researched books in the humanities intended to reach a broad readership. Some humanities scholarship is necessarily specialized, but the humanities can also engage broad audiences in exploring subjects of general interest. Such scholarship might present a narrative history, tell the stories of important individuals, analyze significant texts, provide a synthesis of ideas, revive interest in a neglected subject, or examine the latest thinking on a topic. Books supported by this program must be grounded in humanities research and scholarship, making appropriate use of primary and/or secondary sources. They must also be written in a readily accessible style, addressing significant humanities themes in a way that will appeal to a large audience of general readers. Applications to write books directed primarily to scholars are not appropriate for this program." <<more>>

Center for American Literary Studies Penn State First Book Institute

Deadline: February 11, 2019

"The stakes of successful publishing by early career professors are more urgent than ever given the current state of higher education promotion and publishing. Responding to a glaring need in the field, the First Book Institute features workshops and presentations led by institute faculty aimed at assisting participants in transforming their book projects into ones that promise to make the most significant impact possible on the field and thus land them a publishing contract with a top university press. Eight successful applicants will be awarded $1500 stipends to defray the costs of travel and lodging. Applications to the First Book Institute are invited from scholars working in any area or time period of American literary studies who hold a PhD and are in the process of writing their first book."

<<more>>

National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Seminars and Institutes

Deadline: February 14, 2019

"NEH Summer Seminars and Institutes grants support professional development programs in the humanities for school teachers and for college and university faculty. Seminars and institutes may be as short as one week or as long as four weeks."

<<more>>

Pasold Research Fund Publication Grants

Deadline: February 15, 2019

"The Pasold Fund promotes and supports research on textile history, broadly defined, including the history of dress and the history of fashion. It does this by giving financial assistance to researchers, by organising and supporting conferences and workshops and by publishing a monograph series and a major journal, Textile History."

"The aim is to subsidize the publication of essential illustrative material in high quality research, particularly in research monographs. Applicants should use the Publication Grant Form and must ensure that they provide a full listing and description of the illustrative material, its source and the documented costs of obtaining the material for publication. A detailed description of the nature and content of the research monograph or other output must also be included and a case should be made for the importance of the illustrations to the analysis." <<more>>

Wabash Center Small Project Grants

Deadline: Rolling

"The Wabash Center provides funds for activities that enhance teaching and learning in the fields of religious and theological studies as taught in colleges, universities, and theological schools. We fund projects that focus on at least one of three areas: improving teaching and learning practices; encouraging research and study of pedagogical issues; and nurturing supportive teaching environments." <<more>>

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Archeological Institute of America Richard C. MacDonald Iliad Endowment for Archeological Research

Deadline: January 15, 2019

"This grant will be awarded to projects that support research at the historical site of Ancient Troy and sites in the wider region of Western

Turkey during the third to first millennia B.C.E., or the regions that supply context to the study of Troy, including but not limited to Anatolia (modern Turkey), southeastern Europe, the Aegean and Crete during the third to first millennia B.C.E.

The grant may be used for the purchase of innovative technologies as part of the research, including but are not limited to remote sensing, geographic information systems (GIS), geophysical techniques, LiDAR, global positioning systems (GPS), and space imaging radar." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Cultural Anthropology Scholar Awards

Deadline: January 16, 2019

"The National Science Foundation announces an opportunity for methodological training by cultural anthropologists who are active researchers. The purpose is to help cultural anthropologists upgrade their methodological skills by learning a specific analytical technique which will improve their research abilities." <<more>>

Spencer Foundation New Civics Small Grant Program

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"The Foundation is intended, by Spencer's direction, to investigate ways in which education, broadly conceived, can be improved around the world. From the first, the Foundation has been dedicated to the belief that research is necessary to the improvement in education. The Foundation is thus committed to supporting high-quality investigation of education through its research programs and to strengthening and renewing the educational research community through its fellowship and training programs and related activities." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Science, Technology, and Society

Deadline: February 2, 2019

"The Science, Technology, and Society (STS) program supports research that uses historical, philosophical, and social scientific methods to investigate the intellectual, material, and social facets of the scientific, technological, engineering and mathematical (STEM) disciplines. It encompasses a broad spectrum of STS topics including interdisciplinary studies of ethics, equity, governance, and policy issues that are closely related to STEM disciplines, including medical science." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Science of Organizations

Deadline: February 4, 2019

"Organizations -- private and public, established and entrepreneurial, designed and emergent, formal and informal, profit and nonprofit -- are critical to the well-being of nations and their citizens. They are of crucial importance for producing goods and services, creating value, providing jobs, and achieving social goals. The Science of Organizations (SoO) program funds basic research that yields a scientific evidence base for improving the design and emergence, development and deployment, and management and ultimate effectiveness of organizations of all kinds." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Science of Science and Innovation Policy

Deadline: February 11, 2019

"The Science of Science & Innovation Policy (SciSIP) program supports research designed to advance the scientific basis of science and innovation policy. The program funds research to develop models, analytical tools, data and metrics that can be applied in the science policy decision making process and concern the use and allocation of scarce scientific resources. For example, research proposals may develop behavioral and analytical conceptualizations, frameworks or models that have applications across the broad array of science and innovation policy challenges. Proposals also may develop methodologies to analyze science, technology and innovation data, and to usefully convey that information to a variety of audiences. Proposals that create and improve science, engineering and innovation data, including the design of new metrics and indicators, particularly proposals that demonstrate the viability of collecting and analyzing data on knowledge generation and innovation in organizations, are encouraged." <<more>>

LANGUAGE AND AREA STUDIES

Esherick-Ye Family Foundation

Grants

Deadline: January 3, 2019

"The foundation offers small grants of up to $5000 to support projects in modern Chinese economic, social and political history or archaeology. In most cases, grants will be used to support travel to China for a month or two of research or field work. They may also be used to supplement other funding for research in China or Taiwan, when the alternative funding restricts research in one of those areas. Grants may also be used to develop the research skills of grantees, including the skill and capacity to conduct independent research in archives, libraries, and research sites in Asia and in Chinese language sources. Grants are available for graduate students and untenured faculty for projects on modern Chinese history and for undergraduate and graduate students as well as untenured faculty in archaeology" <<more>>

Palestinian American Research Center Fellowship for U.S. Scholars Conducting Field-Based Research on Palestine

Deadline: January 7, 2019

"The Palestinian American Research Center (PARC) announces its 19th annual U.S. research fellowship competition for doctoral students or scholars who have earned their PhD and whose research will contribute to Palestinian studies. Research must take place in Palestine, Israel, Jordan, or Lebanon." <<more>>

Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies

Visiting Fellowships

Deadline: January 13, 2019

"These Fellowships are offered to support research in any area of the arts, humanities, or the social sciences that has relevance to the study of Islam or the Muslim world. Each Fellowship carries a grant of £5,000 and membership of the Common Room. The grant is intended as a supplementary award and may be held in conjunction with other research grants, stipends, or sabbatical salaries. Fellowships are tenable from 1 October for an academic year, though shorter periods will be considered."

<<more>>

Chiang Ching-Kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange

Publication Subsidies

Deadline: January 15, 2019

"Academic publishers may apply for subsidies for the publication of scholarly works related to the goals of the Foundation. The publication may be in the form of a book or a monograph. Applications will be accepted for completed book manuscripts, but not for books in a series. Priority will be given to first book projects by junior scholars. Publication Subsidy Grants may only be used to cover editing, indexing, and other relevant publication costs. Translation and research-related expenses may not be included. Priority will be given to collaborative projects involving institutions in Taiwan. Projects on Taiwan Studies are especially encouraged."

<<more>>

American Center of Oriental Research

NEH Research Fellowships

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"One award of six months for post-doctoral scholars at the institute in Amman through the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH). The fellowship supports research in the humanities and disciplines of the social sciences that have humanistic content and employ humanistic methods. Fields of research include modern and classical languages, linguistics, literature, history, jurisprudence, philosophy, archaeology, comparative religion, ethics, and the history, criticism, and theory of the arts. Social and political scientists are encouraged to apply. Research topics should contribute to scholarship in Near Eastern studies." <<more>>

Jacobs Research Funds and Kinkade Language and Culture Fund

Deadline: February 15, 2019

"The Jacobs Research Funds (JRF) and the Kinkade Language and Culture Fund (KLF) are sister organizations that fund linguistic and anthropological research on aboriginal peoples of North and South America. The JRF accepts proposals on behalf of both organizations. Priority is given to research on the Pacific Northwest. However, research in other areas of the Americas will be funded if possible." <<more>>

STEM (SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, AND MATHEMATICS)

Kinship Conservation Fellows

Deadline: January 8, 2019

"We select the best and the brightest practitioners in the field and award them a $6,000 stipend and a month of valuable, cutting-edge training. Our curriculum is delivered by a faculty of global experts who work closely with each carefully selected cohort of Fellows to explore new ways to apply market-based approaches to environmental issues.

With our case study methodology, Fellows find new solutions to real life conservation challenges. Over the course of a month, Fellows attend dynamic sessions, participate in collaborative and independent projects, and enjoy a rich, multi-faceted experience." <<more>>

Burroughs Wellcome Fund Collaborative Research Travel Grant

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"Grants must be used for domestic or international travel to another lab to learn new research techniques or begin or continue a collaboration to address biomedical questions. All proposals must be cross-disciplinary. Applicants with a doctoral degree in the physical, mathematical, or engineering sciences working on a biological problem are encouraged to apply. Conversely, proposals from biological scientists who desire to collaborate with a physical scientist, mathematician, or engineer are also encouraged to apply." <<more>> communities, student retention, student learning/ academic progress, and the human potential of students, funding sponsor FirstRisk Advisors, through the American College Health Foundation, is offering one annual $3,500 funding opportunity. The FirstRisk Advisors Initiatives in College Mental/Behavioral Health Funding Opportunity is designed to fund the development of creative initiatives that address prevention, early intervention, and treatment for mental and behavioral health disorders among students. The goal of these initiatives is to reduce the risk of mental and behavioral illness and injury among college students and to enhance both individual and community health as a strategy to support student learning." <<more>>

Society for the Teaching of Psychology Instructional Resource Awards

Deadline: February 1, 2019

"Up to five awards of $1,500 each will be presented annually to enable recipients to complete substantive instructional research projects related to the teaching of psychology that will create resources suitable for posting on OTRP-Online or, if an empirical study, for publication in Teaching of Psychology or a SoTL journal. Proposals may be general in focus or specific to a particular psychology course or student population." <<more>>

National Institutes of Health R01-Research Grants

Deadline: February 5, 2019

"The Research Project Grant (R01) is the original and historically oldest grant mechanism used by NIH. The R01 provides support for health-related research and development based on the mission of the NIH.... [T]he R01 research plan proposed by the applicant must be related to the stated program interests of one or more of the NIH Institutes and Centers based on their missions." <<more>>

Burroughs Wellcome Fund Innovation in Regulatory Science

Deadline: February 6, 2018

"BWF's Innovation in Regulatory Science Awards provide up to $500,000 over five years to academic investigators developing new methodologies or innovative approaches in regulatory science that will ultimately inform the regulatory decisions the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and others make." <<more>>

Dreyfus Foundation

Camille Dreyfus Teacher-Scholar Awards

Deadline: February 7, 2019

"The Camille Dreyfus Teacher-Scholar Awards Program supports the research and teaching careers of talented young faculty in the chemical sciences. Based on institutional nominations, the program provides discretionary funding to faculty at an early stage in their careers. Criteria for selection include an independent body of scholarship attained in the early years of their appointment (see below), and a demonstrated commitment to education, signaling the promise of continuing outstanding contributions to both research and teaching." <<more>>

Mathematical Association of America Tensor Women and Mathematics Grants

Deadline: February 12, 2019

"The Tensor Foundation has provided funding to support projects designed to encourage women from middle school, high school, college, or university levels to study and persist in mathematics. On behalf of the Tensor Foundation, the MAA encourages college, university, and secondary mathematics faculty (in conjunction with college or university faculty) and their institutions to submit proposals to the Tensor Women and Mathematics Program. Projects may replicate existing successful projects, adapt components of such projects, or be innovative." <<more>>

Columbia Population Research Center Seed Grant Program

Deadline: Rolling

"The goal of the CPRC seed grant program is to help faculty lay the groundwork for intellectually innovative research projects in population, health, and society to the point where they can attract external funding.

Substantively, the CPRC is interested in proposals that address one or more of our research priorities. Applications should 1) focus on the CPRC's four primary research areas; 2) link cutting-edge research in neuroscience with the social, behavioral, or health sciences; 3) propose globally focused research; 4) develop research methodology; and/or propose policy-related research oriented toward pressing social issues in the domestic or international arena." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Division of Integrative Organismal Systems

Deadline: Rolling

"The Division of Integrative Organismal Systems (IOS) supports research aimed at understanding why organisms are structured the way they are and function as they do. Proposals should focus on organisms as a fundamental unit of biological organization. Principal Investigators (PIs) are encouraged to apply systems approaches that will lead to conceptual and theoretical insights and predictions about emergent organismal properties. Areas of inquiry include, but are not limited to, developmental biology and the evolution of developmental processes, nervous system development, structure, and function, physiological processes, functional morphology, symbioses, interactions of organisms with biotic and abiotic environments, and animal behavior."
