

Grant Opportunities & News You Can Use

Hello Faculty,

For those of you who would like to understand the NIH granting process better, Columbia University Medical Center is offering a workshop, “Best Practices for Competitive Grant Applications: NIH Funding for Research & Career Development Activities,” on Friday, November 8, 12:30-5:00pm at the Atchley-Loeb Conference Room, 622 W. 168th St., 8th floor, room 107. Register here.

Please be aware the next deadline for Internal Research Grants and for Inclusive Pedagogy Fund Proposals is November 21. January 31 is the deadline for the next round for Internal Research Grants and for the Tow Award for Innovative and Outstanding Pedagogy Proposals. For more information, visit the Internal Grants & Support page.

If you would like assistance in finding grants for your upcoming research, please contact Kari Steeves. As always, feel free to send any comments or suggestions directly to us here.

Best,
Kari Steeves

Featured Funding Opportunity

National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)

Despite news reports early in the year rumoring the elimination of the National Endowment for the Humanities, Congress included a $2 million increase for the NEH in its FY 2017 spending bill in May. Therefore, faculty may want to take advantage of the NEH's continued existence and apply for funding.

Among the NEH's 39 grant opportunities, the following may be of particular interest to Barnard faculty. Find out more about the others here.

Collaborative Research Grants

Deadline: December 6, 2017

"Collaborative Research grants support groups of two or more scholars engaging in significant and sustained research in the humanities. The program seeks to encourage interdisciplinary work, both within the humanities and beyond. Projects that include partnerships with researchers from the natural and social sciences are encouraged, but they must remain firmly rooted in the humanities and must employ humanistic methods." <<more>>

Digital Humanities Advancement Grants

Deadline: January 16, 2018

"Digital Humanities Advancement Grants (DHAG) support digital projects throughout their lifecycles, from early start-up phases through implementation and long-term sustainability. Experimentation, reuse, and extensibility are hallmarks of this grant category, leading to innovative work that can scale to enhance research, teaching, and public programming in the humanities." <<more>>

Fellowships

Deadline: April 11, 2018

"Fellowships support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both." <<more>>

Summer Stipends

Deadline: not yet posted for 2018, but past deadlines have been in September.

"Summer Stipends support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both." <<more>>

Humanities Connections Planning and Implementation Grants:

Deadline: not yet posted for 2018, but past deadlines have been in October.

"The Humanities Connections grant program seeks to expand the role of the humanities in undergraduate education at two- and four-year institutions. Grants will support innovative curricular approaches that foster productive partnerships among humanities faculty and their counterparts in the social and natural sciences and in pre-service or professional programs (such as business, engineering, health sciences, law, computer science, and other technology-driven fields)." <<more>>

Sage Advice for Better Proposals

In the somewhat provocatively titled, “Why Academics Have a Hard Time Writing Good Grant Proposals,” Robert Porter of Virginia Tech offers advice for writing successful grant proposals.

The article is based on a paper he wrote for competition at the Society of Research Administrators International (SRAI) Symposium in 2006. It won first prize then and recently was selected for SRAI’s 50th anniversary edition. First and foremost, he says, “Many (scholars) are surprised to find that the writing style that made them successful as academics is not well suited to crafting a winning proposal.” Find out what writing style IS well suited here.

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities

General Interest and Cross Disciplinary

Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting Travel Grants

Deadline: Rolling

“The Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting funds international travel costs associated with reporting projects on topics and regions of global importance, with an emphasis on issues that have gone unreported or under-reported in the mainstream American media. The amount of individual travel grants will depend on the specific project and detailed budget planning. Most awards fall in the range of $5,000 to $15,000 but depending on project specifics may be higher.”

<<more>>

Association of American University Women International Fellowships

Deadline: December 1, 2017

“International Fellowships are awarded for full-time study or research in the United States to women who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Both graduate and postgraduate studies at accredited U.S. institutions are supported.”

“Recipients are selected for academic achievement and demonstrated commitment to women and girls. Recipients return to their home countries to become leaders in business, government, academia, community activism, the arts, and sciences.” <<more>>

Arts and Humanities Funding

New York Council for the Humanities, Humanities New York Vision and Action Grants

Deadline: rolling

“Humanities NY expands the field of the public humanities by supporting projects that activate, frame, or deepen our understanding of what it means to be human.”

“Projects that address pressing issues and draw strength from community partnerships are encouraged. The grants program gives priority to projects that engage hard-to-reach audiences (e.g., families, groups with special needs, veterans, etc.) or that serve communities from all around the state. From now to 2020, projects that mark the state or national centennials of women’s suffrage are also encouraged.” Vision grants provide up to $1,500 seed funding for project development. Action Grants provide up to $5,000 matching funds for implementation. <<more>>

Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation US Artists International Grants

Deadline: December 1, 2017, and April 5, 2018

“USArtists International supports performances by U.S. artists at important cultural festivals and arts marketplaces around the globe. Committed to the presence of U.S. based artists on world stages, USArtists International provides grants to ensembles and individual performers in dance, music and theatre invited to perform at significant international festivals and performing arts markets.”

“USAI provides grants of up to $15,000 towards support of artist fees, travel, accommodations, per diem, shipping and visa preparation.” <<more>>

National Endowment for the Arts Translation Projects

Deadline: December 5, 2017

“Through fellowships to published translators, the National Endowment for the Arts supports projects for the translation of specific works of prose, poetry, or drama from other languages into English. We encourage translations of writers and of work that are not well represented in English translation. All proposed projects must be for creative translations of literary material into English. The work to be translated should be of interest for its literary excellence and value. Priority will be given to projects that involve work that has not previously been translated into English.” <<more>>

National Endowment for the Humanities Scholarly Editions and Translations Grants

Deadline: December 6, 2017.

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities (cont'd)

“Scholarly Editions and Translations grants support the preparation of editions and translations of pre-existing texts of value to the humanities that are currently inaccessible or available only in inadequate editions or transcriptions. Typically, the texts and documents are significant literary, philosophical, and historical materials; but other types of work, such as musical notation, are also eligible.” <<more>>

Social Science

Popular Culture Association Endowment Travel Grants

Deadline: December 1, 2017

“In 2018, seventy-six scholarships will be offered to support travel to the (annual) meeting – forty for graduate students ($500), fifteen for early-career faculty ($1,000), fifteen for International faculty ($1,000), and six for faculty from 2-year colleges ($1,000). Research and travel to collection grants ($1,000) will be given to three individuals and one grant ($7,500) will go to support collection building.” <<more>>

The Barry Amiel and Norman Melburn Trust Grants

Deadline: December 1, 2017

“The general objectives of the Trust are to advance public education, learning and knowledge in all aspects of the philosophy of Marxism, the history of socialism, and the working class movement. The Trust, as well as initiating activity or research in pursuit of these objects, is open to applications for funding.”

“In forthcoming rounds, the Trust will aim to ringfence 50% of funds for applications for projects with a strong focus on popular political education and on engagement with non-academic and non-activist audiences, especially those focused on reaching people and communities across the UK who are likely to face barriers to accessing education, learning and knowledge about the philosophy of Marxism, the history of socialism, the working class movement and other social movements seeking to bring about non-exploitative and egalitarian societies. These barriers could include educational, financial, geographical, or political cultural barriers.”

Language and Area Studies

Asian Cultural Council – Individual Guidelines

Deadline: December 1, 2017

Council funding supports artists, arts or humanities professionals, scholars, or graduate/post-graduate students in a related field. Proposed projects must take place outside one’s home country, in either the United States or Asia. “... Fellowship grants are process-oriented, not product-oriented. They are intended for exploration, not exhibition.” The majority of ACC’s grants are awarded after its May board meeting. Projects should begin no earlier than June 1, 2018.

STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) Funding

National Science Foundation Integrated Earth Systems

Deadline: November 14, 2017

“The Earth consists of a variety of complex systems that are variable over space and time, and respond to a wide range of perturbations. The goal of the Integrated Earth Systems (IES) program is to investigate the interplay among the continental, terrestrial, and interior systems of the planet. The program provides an opportunity for collaborative, multidisciplinary research into the operation, dynamics, and complexity of Earth systems that encompass the core of the Earth through the surface. Innovative projects that explore new research directions beyond those typically considered by core programs of the Division of Earth Sciences (EAR) are encouraged. Investigations may include all or part of the continental, terrestrial and deep Earth at all temporal and spatial scales. IES will support topics that include (but are not limited to) continental systems; terrestrial or surficial Earth systems including physical, chemical, and biotic dimensions; linkages among tectonics, climate, and landscape evolution; the coupling of the Earth's climate, depositional and biotic systems; and global cycles that involve core and mantle processes." <<more>>

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities (cont'd)

National Science Foundation Ecology and Evolution of Infectious Diseases (EEID)

Deadline: November 15, 2017

The Ecology and Evolution of Infectious Diseases program supports research on the ecological, evolutionary, and socio-ecological principles and processes that influence the transmission dynamics of infectious diseases. The central theme of submitted projects must be quantitative or computational understanding of pathogen transmission dynamics. The intent is discovery of principles of infectious disease transmission and testing mathematical or computational models that elucidate infectious disease systems. Projects should be broad, interdisciplinary efforts that go beyond the scope of typical studies. They should focus on the determinants and interactions of transmission among humans, non-human animals, and/or plants. This includes, for example, the spread of pathogens; the influence of environmental factors such as climate; the population dynamics and genetics of reservoir species or hosts; the cultural, social, behavioral, and economic dimensions of disease transmission. Research may be on zoonotic, environmentally-borne, vector-borne, or enteric diseases of either terrestrial or freshwater systems and organisms, including diseases of animals and plants, at any scale from specific pathogens to inclusive environmental systems. Proposals for research on disease systems of public health concern to developing countries are strongly encouraged, as are disease systems of concern in agricultural systems. Investigators are encouraged to develop the appropriate multidisciplinary team, including for example, modelers, bioinformaticians, genomics researchers, social scientists, economists, epidemiologists, entomologists, parasitologists, microbiologists, bacteriologists, virologists, pathologists or veterinarians, with the goal of integrating knowledge across disciplines to enhance our ability to predict and control infectious diseases." <<more>>

National Science Foundation Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Grants

Deadline: November 15, 2017

"The Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Grants (AAG) Program provides individual investigator and collaborative research grants for observational, theoretical, laboratory, and archival data studies in astronomy and astrophysics. Acceptable research areas include the following: stellar astronomy and astrophysics; the astronomy and astrophysics of our Galaxy; extragalactic astronomy and astrophysics; and cosmology. Proposals for projects and tools that enable and enhance research in those areas are also acceptable. Proposals that are solely or predominantly for the acquisition, analysis, or interpretation of space-based data from NASA-supported missions will be returned without review.

Importantly, proposals about the astronomy and astrophysics of our Sun, the rest of our Solar System, and/or Extrasolar Planets will be handled under a companion NSF solicitation, not under the AAG Program." <<more>>

News Items

From the NIH — New NIH "FORMS-E" Grant Application Instructions Available for Due Dates On or After January 25, 2018

"Focus of changes:

- New PHS Human Subjects & Clinical Trials Information Form

Grants and Fellowship Opportunities (cont'd)

- Consolidates human subjects, inclusion enrollment, and clinical trial information into one form.
- Collects information at the study-level.
- Uses discrete form fields to capture clinical trial information and provide the level of detail needed for peer review.
- Presents key information to reviewers and staff in a consistent format.
- Aligns with ClinicalTrials.gov (where possible) for future data exchange with ClinicalTrials.gov.
- Includes attachment to comply with NIH Policy on the Use of a Single Institutional Review Board for Multi-Site Research (see NIH-OD-17-076).
- Clarification that the Research Strategy attachment should be used to discuss the overall strategy, methodology, and analyses of the proposed research, but applicants should not duplicate information collected in the new PHS Human Subjects and Clinical Trials Information form.
- Incorporation of updated appendix policy (see NOT-OD-17-098).
- Incorporation of recent Grants.gov changes to R&R Budget and SBIR/STTR Information forms.
- Discontinue use of supplemental instructions for all competing applications and progress reports

All information has been folded into the application guide form instructions and/or is contained in the appropriate policy website (e.g., NIH Grants Policy Statement).

All updates to form instructions are listed at: <https://grants.nih.gov/grants/how-to-apply-application-guide/forms-e/general/g.120-significant-changes.htm>."

From Giorgio DiMauro, Barnard College Dean, International and Global Strategy — Global Barnard Funding Opportunities

"1) Funding to support faculty-led programs abroad: awards of up to $5,000 to cover faculty costs and defray program expenses for students. The deadline to propose programs for summer 2018 is November 1, 2017. Learn more at: <https://barnard.edu/global/faculty-led>.
2) The Weiss Fellowship for Visiting International Scholars: funding to support a visit by a distinguished international scholar to Barnard. The deadline for spring 2018 is December 1, 2017. Learn more at: https://barnard.edu/global/international\_scholars/weiss. Proposals are reviewed by the Faculty Committee on Internationalization in conjunction with the Dean for International and Global Strategy and the Provost."
